SPARKLING WINE & CHAMPAGNE

There is usually a reason for opening a bottle of sparkling wine, whether it be to toast a happy occasion or to quench your thirst after a long day. We have a wonderful choice of Champagne, but don't miss our range of English sparkling wines. With a similar terroir to Champagne, English sparkling wine really stands up on its own.

162. Hattingley Valley, Classic Reserve, Hampshire, England	£58.00
163. Hattingley Valley, Brut Rose, Hampshire, England	£65.00

207. Prosecco Cielo Brut DOC, Italy	£32.00

WHITE WINE

FRANCE - ALSACE

North-east of France by the German border, Alsace is a wonderful winemaking region that produces some of the world's most prestigious white wines with big floral bouquets and sweet aromatics.

022. Trimbach, Gewurztraminer	£37.50
088. Trimbach, Pinot Blanc	£22.00
089. Hugel et Fils, Gentil Classic	£33.50
090. Hugel et Fils, Estate Gewurztraminer	£54.50

FRANCE – LOIRE

Recognised as a great place to plant vines by the Romans in the 1st century, the Loire Valley is a wonderful region producing a variety of different styles of wine. From big fruity reds to crisp and elegant whites, don't overlook this region as you will be pleasantly surprised.

091. Domaine Sylvain Gaudron, Vouvray Demi-Sec	£41.50
092. Domaine Franck Millet, Sancerre	£53.00
208. Domaine Bernard fleuriet et Fils, Sancerre	£37.00
209. Domaine Chatelain Pouilly Fume 'Harmoine'	£35.00
093. Domaine Du Petit Soudard, Pouilly Fume	£38.00

SOUTHERN FRANCE

Often overlooked as a region that produces plenty of bulk wine with less focus on quality. In recent years, the southern part of France has been proving itself worthy of being a quality wine region at an affordable price.

093. Domaine de Morin-Langaran, Picpoul de Pinet	£25.00
210. Domaine del Sol, Picpoul de Pinet	£28.00
212. L'Ardeche Chardonnay	£29.00

FRANCE - BURGUNDY

Although Bourgogne may be small in size, the influence is that of greatness. Using only two grape varieties, Chardonnay and Pinot Noir, you will be hard pressed to find a better expression of these grapes. With fantastic terroir and limestone soils that date back 200 million years. The depth and richness these wines have is incomparable.

026. Domaine Perraid, Bourgogne Aligote	£39.00
096. William Fevre, Chablis	£42.00
213. Seguinot Bordet, Chablis	£38.00
098. Domaine Pernot Belicard, Meursault	£100.00
097. Domaine Billard Saint Aubin 1er Cru Vignes Moignon	£69.00
100. Puligny Montrachet 1er Cru, La Garenne	£120.00

FRANCE - RHONE

Winemaking started as far back as the 4th century by the Greeks who initially planted vines. It wasn't until the Romans established a solid reputation for viticulture that wine grown in the Rhone valley was taken seriously. From bold and juicy reds to elegant Condrieu, the Rhone Valley really is a fantastic region.

104. E Guigal Condrieu £107.00

ENGLAND

Using the grape Bacchus, which is a cross hybrid grape of Silvaner, Riesling and Müller-Thurgau, England have taken this grape and made it their own. Zesty in character with underlying notes of aromatic elderflower and ripe tropical flavours.

105. Giffords Hall Bacchus £36.00

215. Lyme Bay, Bacchus Block £40.00

ITALY

With over 350 grape varieties, Italy has a wide scope of wine they can produce. They believe you should match the food you're eating with wine you're drinking - usually a local dish with a local wine.

106. Bergaglio Gavi di Gavi £41.50

108. Planeta, Etna Bianco £45.00

010. Librandi Cirò Bianco Greco £28.00

006. Pehhcora, Pecorino, Abruzzo £23.00

SPAIN

Spain is a fantastic diverse winemaking country, with millions of hectares dedicated to it. It is in their blood as much as their French neighbours. With such a wide variety of wines, we recommend trying something you have never had before, such as the unusual yet delicious Txakoli for the whites or the robust yet exciting Mencia. Although not your average go-to wines, they will really delight your palate and leave you wanting more.

109. Txakoli de Getariako Bengoetxe £34.00

110. Zarate El Palomar Albarino £78.00

AUSTRIA

Coming back in a big way from a bad reputation birthed in the 80's, and now making wine at a very high standard. We personally recommend you try their native grape varieties. The Gruner Veltliner is a wonderful elegant white with zippy character and their reds are interesting too - the Zweigelt being a bit of a cherry bomb and the Blaufrankisch a forest fruit delight.

111. Josef Ehmoser, Gruner Veltliner Von Den Terrassen £32.50

GERMANY

White wines are Germany's strength. The noble Riesling grape is Germany's masterpiece, boasting a racy elegance no-one, anywhere, can imitate.

170. Peter Jakob Kune, Riesling £60.00

HUNGARY

Tokaji? Isn't that a sweet wine? It is, although being such a diverse grape the Furmint can be made into a wonderful dry wine too. With notes of walnuts, almonds and mint vibes rounded off with a fresh citrus kick, it's definitely one to broaden your horizons of Hungarian wine.

030. Patricius Tokaji Dry Furmint £41.00

AMERICA

After kicking into touch the classic French wines in the Judgement of Paris in 1976, the Americans have been making some superb wines since. The whites redeem the drastic memories of bright yellow Chardonnays and overly sweet German Rieslings that bring us all to tears, whilst the reds are just exquisite, rivalling the best out there.

019. Chateau Ste Michelle, Riesling, Washington State £36.50

076. Chardonnay, De Loach Reserve, Russian River, USA £37.50

NEW ZEALAND

New Zealand is a geographical story of two islands offering a diverse range of grape varieties, including Sauvignon Blanc, Pinot Noir and Chardonnay. Wine regions are mostly located in free draining alluvial valleys, Hawke's Bay, Martinborough and Nelson. An obvious maritime climate experiencing cool nights, even in the hottest of summers. The effect of consistently cool nights is to produce fruit which is nearly always high in acidity, offering bright, refreshing wines that can give the Burgundian's a run for their money.

014. Sauvignon Blanc, Bascand Estate, Marlborough	£32.00
116. Greywacke Sauvignon Blanc, Marlborough	£44.50
117. Greywacke Wild Sauvignon Blanc, Marlborough	£53.00
118. Black Canvas, Gruner Veltliner, Marlborough	£39.50
219. Esk Valley Riesling, Marlborough	£33.00

SOUTH AFRICA

It has only been in the past 10 years that South African wines have been seen in and around the UK, they would send most of their wine to be distilled into brandy. Now the tides have turned, and they are pumping out some of the most interesting wines at a high quality.

001. Simonsvlei Chenin Blanc, Western Cape	£21.00
121. Crystallum Agnes Chardonnay	£55.00

RED WINE

FRANCE – ALSACE

North-east of France by the German border, Alsace is a wonderful winemaking region that produces some of the world's most prestigious white wines with big floral bouquets and sweet aromatics.

122. Hugel et Fils, Pinot Noir £41.00

FRANCE – LOIRE

Recognised as a great place to plant vines by the Romans in the 1st century, the Loire Valley is a wonderful region producing a variety of different styles of wine. From big fruity reds to crisp and elegant whites, don't overlook this region as you will be pleasantly surprised.

054. La Cabriole, Saumur Rouge £31.00

SOUTHERN FRANCE

Often overlooked as a region that produces plenty of bulk wine with less focus on quality. In recent years, the southern part of France has been proving itself worthy of being a quality wine region at an affordable price.

038. Saint Marc Reserve Merlot £21.00

039. Louis Latour Pinot Noir, Verdon, France £33.00

FRANCE - BURGUNDY

Although Bourgogne may be small in size, the influence is that of greatness. Using only two grape varieties, Chardonnay and Pinot Noir, you will be hard pressed to find a better expression of these grapes. With fantastic terroir and limestone soils that date back 200 million years. The depth and richness these wines have is incomparable.

126. Domaine Denis Berthaut, Gevrey Chambertain £96.50

FRANCE - BEAUJOLAIS

Sitting just underneath Burgundy, Beaujolais is well known for its light and fruity reds. Using techniques such as carbonic maceration, this lifts the wine to new heights creating jammy notes, giving complexity. Best drunk young and can also be drunk ever so slightly chilled.

074. Domaine Dit Barron, Brouilly £32.00

FRANCE - RHONE

Winemaking started as far back as the 4th century by the Greeks who initially planted vines. It wasn't until the Romans established a solid reputation for viticulture that wine grown in the Rhone valley was taken seriously. From bold and juicy reds to elegant Condrieu, the Rhone Valley really is a fantastic region.

050. Les Boudalles, Cotes du Ventoux £28.50

167. Le Grand Montmirail Gigondas Tradition £64.95

220. Terrasses du Soleil, Crozes Hermitage £41.00

FRANCE - BORDEAUX

Bordeaux is the largest wine region in France with a total vineyard area of more than 120,000 hectares shared by 8,500 châteaux. Some of the most elegant and expensive wines come from here.

123. Chateau La Croix Fourney, St Emillion Grand Cru	£72.50
128. Chateau St Pierre, Pomerol	£120.00
223. Chateau Nenin, Fugue de Nenin, Pomerol	£79.00
129. Chateau Bel Air, 'Puissequin' Saint Emillion	£42.00

ITALY

With over 350 grape varieties, Italy has a wide scope of wine they can produce. They believe you should match the food you're eating with wine you're drinking - usually a local dish with a local wine.

134. Vigna Macchia dei Goti, Taurasi DOCG	£97.00
135. Cascina Bongiovanni, Barolo DOCG	£79.00
224. Magnifico Rosso Fuoco, Primitivo di Manduria	£35.00

ENGLAND

The below is a fantastic example of a cool climate Pinot. Light to medium body, full of red cherry and hints of cedar wood, which give a lovely complexity to the bouquet and palate.

145. Bolney Estate Pinot Noir, Sussex £55.00

SPAIN

Spain is a fantastic diverse winemaking country, with millions of hectares dedicated to it. It is in their blood as much as their French neighbours. With such a wide variety of wines, we recommend trying something you have never had before, such as the unusual yet delicious Txakoli for the whites or the robust yet exciting Mencia. Although not your average go-to wines, they will really delight your palate and leave you wanting more.

046. El Coto, Rioja Crianza £28.50

140. R Lopez de Heredia, Vina Tondonia, Rioja Reserva £77.50

136. Cuatro Pasos, Mencia £26.50

137. Corimbo Bodegas La Horra, Ribero del Duero, 2013 £64.95

138. Zorzal Garnacha, Navara £26.50

221. Marques de Riscal Rioja Reserve £55.00

PORTUGAL

The home of Port. Shipped over by the British and a large majority of it owned by the legendary Symington family. But Port isn't all they do. They make some very nice reds using their native grape such as Touriga Nacional, which is robust and full of notes of ripe dark fruits. Portuguese reds are not something to miss.

141. Casa Ferreirinha, Quinta de Leda 2014	£72.00
222. Symington Altano Douro	£31.00

AUSTRIA

Coming back in a big way from a bad reputation birthed in the 80's, and now making wine at a very high standard. We personally recommend you try their native grape varieties. The Gruner Veltliner is a wonderful elegant white with zippy character and their reds are interesting too - the Zweigelt being a bit of a cherry bomb and the Blaufränkisch a forest fruit delight.

070. Heinrich Burgenland, Blaufränkisch	£42.00
142. Heinrich Burgenland, Zweigelt	£43.50

SERBIA

Gamay from Beaujolais, grown in Serbia - who would have thought? The story starts with a French chap visiting a peasant village and realised the chalky limestone soils were perfect for growing Gamay. Notes of your typical red fruits, earthy brown sugar, sweet vanilla and cloves round this wine off as a total hidden gem. You'll want to give this one a try.

144. Gamay 'Obecanje' 2012, Frankuska Vineyards	£43.50
---	--------

LEBANON

Lebanon quite possibly has some of the oldest vines around. In 1930 Gaston Hochar from Chateau decided to recreate the legacy that Lebanon was a prosperous winemaking country. Rich and spicy, perfumed and deep in flavour, these wines are one to enjoy but take your time. Sometimes the grapes have to avoid war zones before they are pressed. This makes every drop count.

066. Chateau Musar, Hochar	£39.25
145. Chateau Musar 2006, Bekka Valley	£70.00
223. Chateau Musar, Musar Jeune, Bekka Valley	£39.00

CANADA

Canadian winemakers have continuously been proving that wine grown in cooler climates can show great complexity. With delicate flavours yet very persistent, Canadian wines also show a growing potential to age well.

146. Burrowing Owl Estate, Cabernet Franc 2014	£78.50
--	--------

AMERICA

After kicking into touch the classic French wines in the Judgement of Paris in 1976, the Americans have been making some superb wines since. The reds are just exquisite, rivalling the best out there.

147. MacMurray Central Coast Pinot Noir	£46.50

151. 'Beyer Ranch' Wente Zinfandel	£33.00
152. Mount Jefferson Cristom Pinot Noir, Oregon	£78.00

ARGENTINA

Although Malbec originally comes from France, Argentina have been making some of the best Malbec since the 19th century. Grown on a high altitude up in the Andes, this is the perfect climate for great wines with full and deep characteristics.

058. Humberto Canale Estate Malbec, Patagonia	£37.80
153. El Esteco Estate Malbec	£38.00
230. Kaiken Reserve, 2016, Malbec	£29.00
154. Quara Estate Tannat, Cafayate Valley, Salta	£25.00
042. Melodias Winemaker's Selection Pinot Noir, Trapiche	£25.50

CHILE

With 2,700 miles of coastline, the coastal breeze and the warm climate is a perfect combination for making wines that are fruity and full of character.

225. Secrets Viu Manent, Carmenere £31.00

AUSTRALIA

Known for its Shiraz, Australia has built a brand around its favourite grape. The warmer climate is great for growing Shiraz but also its counterpart Grenache. These are two grapes that are full and rich yet spicy at the same time, and really compliment the Aussie terroir.

062. 'Sarus' Cranswick Shiraz, Barossa Valley £36.75

158. Kilikanoon Prodigal Grenache, Clare Valley £55.00

226. Wirra Wirra Church Block, Cabernet/Merlot/Shiraz £44.00

NEW ZEALAND

New Zealand is a geographical story of two islands offering a diverse range of grape varieties, including Sauvignon Blanc, Pinot Noir and Chardonnay. Wine regions are mostly located in free draining alluvial valleys, Hawke's Bay, Martinborough and Nelson. An obvious maritime climate experiencing cool nights, even in the hottest of summers. The effect of consistently cool nights is to produce fruit which is nearly always high in acidity, offering bright, refreshing wines that can give the Burgundian's a run for their money.

159. Ata Rangi Pinot Noir, Marlborough £59.00

SOUTH AFRICA

There are many contestants in the world's vineyard beauty contest, but South Africa would always be in the finals. The beautiful mountain ranges act as a funnel for the famous Cape doctor, a powerful south easterly wind that helps to protect the grapes throughout the year. The small amounts of rain and hot summers create the perfect climate for producing superb new world wines.

230. Vierkoppem Weaver's Nest, Merlot/Cabernet blend	£33.00
231. Vierkoppem Cabernet Sauvignon	£40.00
120. Gabrielskloof, Syrah on Shale	£74.00

ROSÉ WINE

We have carefully selected a wonderful range of rosé wine, from the Provence rosé to the more unusual Portuguese rosé. Often seen as a summer wine, and admittedly great on a hot day, rosé is actually very versatile; it can be drunk all year round and works well when paired against more unusual dishes.

084. Sossego Alentejo Rosé, Alentejo, Portugal	£26.00
232. Le Saint André, Provence, France	£30.00
080. Domaine de l'Amour Rosé, Provence, France	£31.00
